

Divergent Series

Read-alikes from Novelist

Hunger Games trilogy

Collins, Suzanne
YA Fiction Collins, S
Grades 7-10

Reason: Readers who can't get enough dystopian fiction with strong female main characters will enjoy both series in which factions compete in often disturbing contests in which their strength and courage are tested. -- Kathy Stewart

Legend \(Marie Lu\) series

Lu, Marie, 1984-
YA Sci-Fi/Fantasy Lu, M
Grades 7-10

Reason: Readers who prefer their science fiction laced with romance will be intrigued by these high-octane series that take place in futuristic versions of North America and explore complicated issues of war, politics, love, and sacrifice. -- Rebecca Honeycutt

Under the Never Sky trilogy

Rossi, Veronica
YA Fiction Rossi, V
Grades 7-12

Reason: Readers drawn to action-packed dystopian stories will find much to love in these two series, which follow heroines forced into new lives as they discover their strength, overcome prejudice, and fall in love. -- Alina Gerall

Blood of Eden series

Kagawa, Julie
YA Fiction Kagawa, J
Grades 8-12

Reason: Readers who like their dystopias infused with a little supernatural will enjoy both series in which strong teen girls fight to stay alive -- as an initiate (Divergent) and in a recognizable post-apocalyptic world taken over by vampires (Blood). -- Kathy Stewart

Quarantine series

Thomas, Lex
YA Fiction Thomas, L
Grades 9-12

Reason: Teens in factions fighting for survival are a common thread of both suspenseful sci fi books. The dystopian world in Quarantine is smaller, and the violence more gruesome, while Divergent has a thread of romance. -- Kathy Stewart

Uglies series

Westerfeld, Scott
YA Fiction Westerfeld, S
Grades 6-9

Reason: These series are Suspenseful and Compelling, and they share: the genre 'Science fiction' and the subjects 'Dystopias' and 'Teenage girls'.

Maze Runner trilogy

Dashner, James, 1972-
YA Fiction Dashner, J
Grades 7-10

Reason: These series are Suspenseful and Compelling, and they share: the genre 'Science fiction' and the subject 'Dystopias'.
